

REPORT ON VOLUNTARY BLOOD DONATION CAMP

27th October, 2016

Sambhram School of Management, Bangalore, in association with Lions Blood Bank, Bangalore organized a voluntary Blood Donation Camp in the College premises on 27th October 2016. The students as well as all the faculty members involved themselves and made it a successful camp. Not only had our students participated actively but also students from our sister institutions Sambhram Institute of Technology and Sambhram Academy of Management Studies donated blood. Volunteers involved themselves in campaigning for the blood donation and the faculty members also enthused them. In total 133 units of blood were collected; the authorities of Lions Blood Bank lauded the students' and the faculties' effort in making it a grand success. The Director, Prof. K.C.Mishra thanked the organizers as well as the faculty members and volunteers. In recognition of their noble services the Lions Blood Bank authorities issued all the volunteers the certificate of appreciation. The College was also given a certificate of appreciation.
