The Chief Guest emphasized the importance of education in every individual's life and the transformation leading for a better future.

The Principal in his presidential remark highlighted the importance of certain parameters that direct to the path of success. He mentioned about spark, flame, purpose, attaining mastery, clarion call from within, challenge, hard work, interacting with people, potentiality, balanced and worthy life as some of the key issues the students should take utmost care to lead a classic professional life. He gave the practical examples of the corporate icons to motivate the students to take up the challenges as a way of life.

The students could realize their graduating success and raise heads high to have overcome all challenges of life till now and begin a new one; never to relent. They should keep the same promise to the next level, which is the PG stage and even PhD. A transformative education is a candle that will light their paths when darkness shows its ugly face and it's also the key to open the doors of despair.

The success that they are celebrating today was conditioned by the amount of risk they had willingly taken up and also by the friendship and the cultural exchanges they have shared in their horizon of a mini world in the College campus. Principal wished everyone to make their dreams walk and keep pushing and push harder.

The best outgoing students were felicitated and all the graduating students awarded Certificates of Course Completion.
